

OCTOBER 2026

A NOTE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Season 41 is well under way and there is an incredible energy in the air! Watching our students step into the studio each week has been an absolute joy. Over these past few weeks our primary focus has been building a strong, supportive ensemble. Through theatre games, improvisation and vocal techniques, the students are learning to trust one another, express themselves boldly and shake off any stage fright.

Educational theater is a powerful journey. It is a space where you will learn to collaborate, step outside of your comfort zones, and find your unique voices. Whether you are stepping into the spotlight for the first time, taking on a leadership role, or preparing for your college auditions, your dedication is what brings our program to life. Every role, both on stage and behind the scenes, is vital to our success.

To our returning students and staff, welcome back—your leadership and passion set the foundation for everything we do. To our newest students and staff, welcome to our creative family. We are thrilled to have you here and can't wait to watch your talents flourish.

As we move forward with our studies, let us commit to supporting one another, taking creative risks, and learning from every challenge. Let's make our studio a safe, inclusive, and joyful space to create art.

Thank you for your hard work, your bravery, and your passion.
Let's make season 41 our most memorable one yet.

See you in the classroom!

Meet September's STAR STUDENTS

CLAIRE

Leading By Example

Claire was instrumental in welcoming new students to her class. She helped newer classmates meet returning students by introducing them to one another. She led the class by example being the first to volunteer to demonstrate in class and was an active participant in all exercises ensuring that her new classmates felt comfortable in joining in. Congratulations Claire on showing us how kindness and openness can make others feel welcome.

TESSA

Stepping Out of Our Comfort Zone

Tessa shines in both the dance studio & acting class. She attends class three times a week and never forgets to bring her smile. This year, Tess has stepped out of her comfort zone and decided to start focusing on her vocal training. Sometimes it takes courage to participate in an area that we feel isn't our strongest suit. But with time, consistency and focus, Tessa will find her voice and her vocals will fill our studio and our hearts with the same joy as her dancing and acting. Congratulations Tessa on taking control of your training at such a young age. You will go far!
